UKBA(cert) Manual

The purpose of this document is to describe the academic and competence standards that must be met for an applicant to be eligible to qualify for and maintain UK Behaviour Analyst (cert) status with the UK Society for Behaviour Analysis.

The UK-SBA will begin to accept applications for candidates to qualify as UKBA(cert) from January 2026.

QUALIFYING STANDARDS

OVERVIEW

The UK-SBA is the home of competent, ethical, and values-led behaviour analysts in the UK. The UK-SBA is responsible for formulating the standards of competence and professional conduct for those engaged in the practice of behaviour analysis in the UK.

The following document describes the standards of competence and process towards becoming a UKBA(cert) from 01st January 2026. From 2023 to 31st December 2025 all candidates who hold a BCBA/BCBA-D and reside in the UK may apply to become a UKBA(cert).

The UKBA(cert) is a postgraduate level qualification that indicates a practitioner has met the minimum academic and competence standards for the independent practice of behaviour analysis in the UK.

ELIGIBILITY

All UKBA(cert) must be resident in the UK or Ireland.

Certificants may only use the UKBA(cert) title and badge and the PSA badge whilst their details are searchable on the UK-SBA register. To register, you must be practicing in the UK and hold and evidence all items to demonstrate for safety to practice: liability insurance, appropriate safeguarding training and appropriate disclosure.

The UK-SBA can only regulate practice in the United Kingdom. The title UKBA(cert) and the PSA registration are only valid for work undertaken in the UK. Certificants may not use their UKBA(cert) title or badge, or the PSA Accredited Registers Quality Mark in their advertisements or to solicit work outside of the UK. If a UKBA(cert) works outside of the UK, they should hold the relevant qualification to practice in that country, inform consumers that the UK-SBA does not regulate their practice outside of the UK and direct them to the appropriate regulatory body.

UK-SBA REGISTRATION

All candidates for UKBA(cert) must be registered with the UK-SBA before starting the UKBA(cert) competencies. Candidates can register as a Practising Member, a UKBA(vocational) or a UKBA(assistant)¹. All those who undertake supervised experience must be on the PSA register.

Only a registered UKBA(cert) can provide supervision on the UKBA(cert) Professional and Competence Standards.

ROUTES TO UKBA(cert)

¹ Details of the UKBA(vocational) and UKBA(assistant) will be forthcoming.

The minimum standards for all UKBA(cert) is a master's degree, a post-graduate course sequence in behaviour analysis, and significant supervised experience. Please see the Routes to UKBA(cert) document on the UK-SBA website for further detail.

SUPERVISION

Most candidates who apply to become a UKBA(cert) after January 2026 will be required to complete the entire UKBA(cert) supervision and competence standards. Candidates can begin their UKBA(cert) supervision after they have started a UK-SBA approved postgraduate curriculum.

PURPOSE OF DEMONSTRATING COMPETENCE THROUGH SUPERVISED PRACTICE

The purpose of demonstrating competence through supervised practice is to demonstrate essential behaviour-analytic knowledge and skills, including the conceptualisation and application of behavioural principles to everyday situations and populations, and crucial 'soft skills' to facilitate behaviour change.

Rationale: Competence-Based Framework

Competent application of behaviour analytic strategies and ethical and professional practice are essential for behaviour analytic practitioners. A competence-based framework focusses on holistic performance, which places equal emphasis on the knowledge and skills components required of well-rounded practitioners. The competence areas represent various critical elements of practice (e.g., assessment, intervention, reflective practice, inclusive practice). Under each competence area, individuals are required to demonstrate both knowledge and directly observed skills in order to be deemed fully 'competent' and therefore appropriate for certification and independent practice. Traditional, hours-based models, on the other hand, may not set the occasion for the development and integration of all component parts.

The UK-SBA feel it is important to prepare the field of behaviour analysis in the UK to grow in size and scope. To ensure areas of competence are relevant to the range of settings in which behaviour-analytic work might be conducted in the UK, the individual knowledge and skill items under each area are intended to be general and equally applicable for all practice areas and settings.

Rationale: Areas of Competence, Knowledge, and Skill Items

The areas of competence and associated knowledge and skill items are intended to be broad and applicable to any application of behaviour analysis, including positive behaviour support, education, and organisational and behaviour management. For this reason, knowledge, and skill items are intentionally not operationally defined. This is intended to allow supervisors a degree of freedom to ensure supervisees can demonstrate competence in ways that are most appropriate to their area of practice.

Rationale: Language

The UK-SBA agree that, as the Academic and Competence Standards are intended to guide practitioner behaviour and encourage a common understanding, the content will be phrased in such a way as to be technological, accurate, and precise. Although these documents will be available to the public, the primary readership will be individuals within the field. Therefore, it is important that requirements are phrased in a way that facilitates the consistency of competence across practice areas.

GLOSSARY

Applicant	The UK-SBA-registered individual who wishes to become certified by the UK-SBA as a UKBA(cert)
UK Behaviour Analyst (cert)	Post-graduate level UK-SBA-certified practitioner who provides behaviour-analytic services
Competence Log	A document in which applicants record the 'signing off' of knowledge and skill items by the supervisor. This document is submitted as evidence of knowledge and skills gained during supervised practice.
Final Attestation Form	A document to be completed at the end of supervised practice by the applicant and each of their supervisors. The purpose of this document is to document the knowledge and skill items demonstrated under each supervisor.

COMPETENCE STANDARDS

Rationale: Relationship between Curriculum and Competence Standards

The purpose of the UK-SBA curriculum is to guide the development of university MSc courses in behaviour analysis. It is therefore assumed that a supervisee has acquired (or is currently acquiring) the curriculum items as knowledge. The purpose of the competence standards is to guide supervisors and those undertaking supervised practice to acquire the skills to become a competent behaviour analyst. Therefore, the competence standards detail the way in which behaviour analysts are expected to practice, whereas the curriculum dictates the knowledge required for the competent practice of behaviour analysis. It should be acknowledged, however, that there are similarities in content between the two documents because often, demonstrating a skill competently requires that a person also possess the corresponding knowledge related to that skill (i.e., verbal behaviour). Although it is not the primary role of the supervisor to teach principles and concepts from the curriculum, there may be the occasional need for the supervisor to shape or augment a supervisee's knowledge for the corresponding skill to be acquired.

Statement on Ethics

Applicants must behave in accordance with the UK-SBA Code of Professional and Ethical Conduct during and after supervised practice.

Rationale: Values-Led Framework

A values-led framework, in which competence areas are grouped under core values, represents an opportunity to demonstrate the ethos which guides the field of behaviour analysis in the UK. The values are intended to guide practitioner behaviour in the UK.

Rationale: Competence Framework Structure

The UK-SBA frames practice standards according to three overarching values. Competence areas that reflect critical elements of behaviour analytic practice (e.g., service implementation and communication) are grouped under the three values. Each competence area contains a number of knowledge and skill items essential for ethical and effective behaviour analytic practice.

Case Studies

Each applicant is required to complete written case studies for at least two separate clients. A single case study represents work completed with a client and may be comprised of a number of interventions. Documentation must contain information from referral and assessment through to intervention and evaluation including arrangements for maintenance. The purpose of a case study is to demonstrate the process of working with a client and should include evidence of all elements of engagement, including (but not limited to) assessment, selection of intervention(s), data, plans for generalisation, and social validity. We expect each case study will include a brief literature review, a rationale, and a functional assessment. Applicants should consider the UK-SBA ethics code and how the code informs the practice. The number and type of interventions may vary from client to client, and some interventions may involve more than one client. One case study must contain an intervention in which behaviour was increased and one case study must contain an intervention in which behaviour was decreased. Applicants should include data and provide a discussion about how they evaluated the success of the intervention. Case studies should reflect work that was undertaken as practice and therefore the UK-SBA does not require that each case study is evaluated using single subject research design. Both case studies together must be between 1500-2500 words long. The case studies will not be evaluated, but they will be considered by the UK-SBA and used to inform standards in the future. The UK-SBA is not providing draft case studies.

Competence Log

Throughout the process of supervised practice, each applicant must demonstrate essential behaviour-analytic knowledge and skills in a number of competence areas. This is completed by demonstrating knowledge and skills in situ, receiving supervision and feedback, and obtaining Supervisor confirmation when each knowledge and skill item has been mastered (recorded on the Competence Log). The type of evidence required to demonstrate mastery of each knowledge and skill item will vary depending on the item itself and the area of application, for example, direct observation, graphs, intervention descriptions, personal reflections, meeting minutes, data sheets, other permanent products, or verbal explanation. Once completed, the Competence Log is submitted as part of the application for certification. A template for the competence log is included in this manual, but candidates are welcome to submit alternative formats so long as they include all of the relevant information.

Rationale: Documentation Required to Obtain Certification

The purpose of the competence log is to allow supervisees to track which knowledge and skill items they have successfully demonstrated to their supervisor.

The Final Attestation Form identifies which knowledge and skill elements were signed off by which supervisors and one which date.

The purpose of the case study is to demonstrate an applicant's ability to apply and reflect on their knowledge and skills holistically, in context of and throughout the process of working with a client. Supervisors are expected to provide final approval for case studies before the competence log is submitted, endorsing the quality of the work. The UK-SBA will only check to ensure the case studies have been completed in their entirety including the supervisor's signature.

In neither Case Studies nor Competence Log should there be anything which would allow the identification of the persons concerned. In addition to the removal of names of clients, names of organisations (e.g., hospitals, schools, care homes), and staff must also be removed. Additionally, it is recommended that where background information may identify a client (e.g., occupation, family factors, geographical location), applicants consider whether the information is required to justify the selection of the intervention and demonstrate contextual decision making or can be omitted.

Supervisors

A supervisor must be a UKBA(cert) in good standing. Supervisors must have been certified as a UKBA(cert) or BCBA for a minimum of 3 years before offering supervision.

Until December 2025, the requirements to become a supervisor will be the same as the BACB, and include completion of the 8-hour supervision course. After January 2026, all supervisors must take a 3 hour supervision workshop with the UKSBA. The UK-SBA has offered several supervision workshops since 2023, and evidence of attendance at one of these workshops will satisfy this requirement.

Onset of Supervised Practice

An applicant must secure sufficient and appropriate practice environments under the supervision of a Supervisor(s) who can oversee their work in that setting(s).

Applicants may begin supervised practice once they have:

1. Registered as a Practising Member, UKBA(vocational), or UKBA(assistant) with the UK-SBA
2. Signed a Supervision Contract with a Supervisor
3. Commenced the first module of behaviour analytic content at a university offering a UK-SBA approved course sequence.

Duration of Supervised Practice

Applicants must demonstrate all knowledge and skill items in fewer than 5 years from the onset of supervised practice. Any competencies older than 5 years must be repeated. No knowledge and skill items may be signed-off until initiating attendance at the first module of behaviour-analytic content at a university offering an approved curriculum.

Rate of Supervision A maximum of 5% of the total number of knowledge and skill items may be signed-off per month. For Version 1/2023 standards, this works out to 4 competence items a month. A supervisor is not required to sign off on any minimum number of knowledge and skill items per month, and some months may pass without signing off on any knowledge and skill items. It is anticipated that most applicants will sign off fewer than 5% of knowledge and skill items per month. In some settings, signing off 5% per month may be possible if applicants have more opportunities to demonstrate competence.

It is recommended that supervisees have a minimum of 2 hours of supervision each month, however the UK-SBA acknowledges that the requirements for adequate supervision will vary. We trust that supervisors and supervisees will be thoughtful and professional in how they organise their supervision and we do not prescribe minimum durations of supervision.

EXAM

There is not an exam required to qualify as a UKBA(cert).

Rationale: Absence of an Exam

The UK-SBA is confident that the successful completion of the competence framework, approved post-graduate university coursework, and a master's degree are sufficient to establish a practitioner as competent behaviour analyst.

PROBATIONARY MEMBERS

After 2026, all new UKBA(cert) who do not qualify using the UKBA(cert) professional and competence standards will be awarded probationary membership for the first year of their membership. Probationary status will impact candidates who qualify via routes B, D, and E.

All UKBA(cert) will be required to participate in a minimum of one hour of peer supervision each month. Probationary members should use that supervised time to demonstrate competence in 40 knowledge items² about the ethics and practice values central to the UK-SBA over their first year of practice. Completion of the essential standards demonstrates a willingness to engage with the context in which behaviour analysis is practised in the UK. A UKBA(cert) will assess these competence standards during peer supervision. The standards will not need to be observed; they can be demonstrated via conversation during the supervision sessions. We will not place any constraints on the rate the competence items will be signed off for probationary members: There is not a minimum or maximum number of standards that can be signed off in any month.

Probationary members will be recognised as UKBA(cert) and encouraged to use the title and to promote their work. Their status as Probationary will be indicated on the UK-SBA website profile.

All competencies must be signed off after one year and the documentation of supervision will be uploaded to the portal at renewal. If a member does not complete the competence items in one year they will need to provide justification for the delay to the UK-SBA, who will determine if the UKBA(cert) is allowed to renew their UKBA(cert) membership.

² The Full Probationary Standards are forthcoming.

SUPERVISION REQUIREMENTS

The following table details the requirements for applicants and supervisors to meet.

Supervisory Period	The duration of each supervisory period is one calendar month.
Observation-With-Client	Some specific skill items must be directly observed. Skills that are directly observed must be observed in practice with a client (observations may be via video conference).

Rationale: Monthly Supervision

Supervision is required during each working month. All months during which applicants are engaging in behaviour analytic practice, supervision is required, regardless of the number of hours of practice per month. This requirement begins as soon as the applicant registers as pursuing certification through the UK-SBA. Behaviour analytic practice encompasses any of the behaviours included in the competence framework. The UK-SBA recommend a minimum of 2 hours of supervision per supervisory period. The number and duration of supervision sessions will be dependent on the activities required to prove competence.

Rationale: Direct Observations

To ensure supervisors directly supervise the work of supervisees, there are a number of skill items that must be directly observed to be 'signed off'. Skills that are to be directly observed must be observed during practice, this ensures supervision will not only be office-based. As these skills are observed as an individual (even if the individual is in a group setting), there is no need for rules regarding individual vs. group supervision.

Multiple Clients and Settings

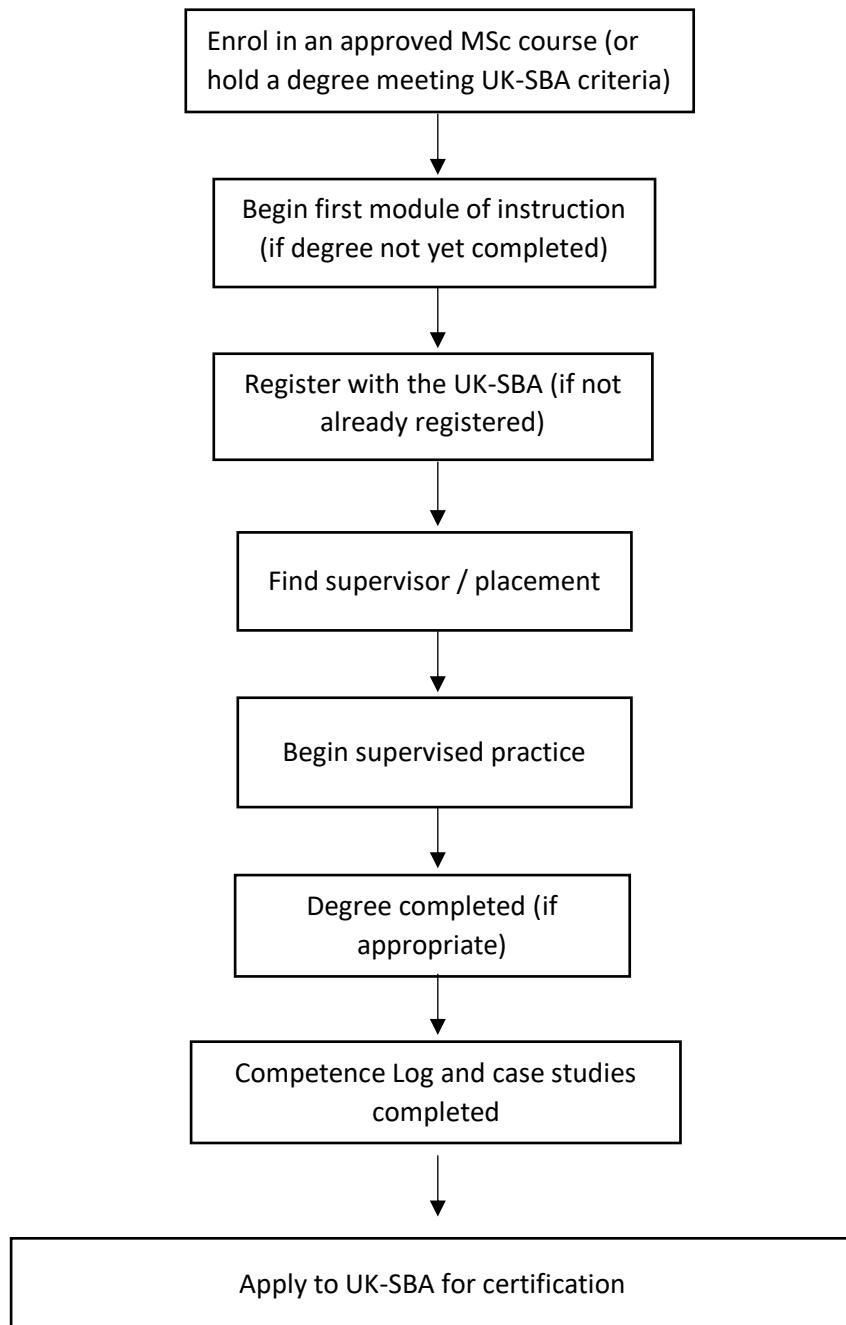

It is essential that applicants work with multiple clients to show evidence of all areas of competence. The applicants should also work across multiple settings to ensure generalisation of knowledge and skills and real-world application. Settings may include (but are not limited to) the community, homes, schools, the workplace, and clinics. The minimum number of clients and settings that each applicant works across is at the discretion of the Supervisor. For example, if the supervisee is working with an older population all work may need to be conducted in a care home setting if that is the only setting accessible to a supervisee.

It is recommended when working with individuals that the clients are part of the Supervisor's own caseload to ensure quality supervision and services.

Records (must be kept for 7 years)

1. A supervision agreement must be developed and signed by each applicant and supervisor.
2. Supervisors and Supervisees are expected to behave in accordance with relevant legal and regulatory guidelines.

PATHWAY TO UKBA(cert) CERTIFICATION

MAINTAINING CERTIFICATION

CPD

Maintenance requirements

In order to maintain certification status professionals must adhere to the following standards beginning in January 2026.

- Behave in accordance with the UK-SBA Code of Professional and Ethical Conduct at all times.
- Applicants must evidence a valid DBS, pr
- Complete the yearly renewal and recertification paperwork, prior to certification expiring, and pay the correct fees.
- Complete a minimum number of APD³s in the appropriate sections.

Continuing Professional Development

Continuing professional development is required to ensure that certificates continue to expand their behaviour-analytic skills and remain current in their practice.

Total CEUs required to recertify	16
APDs/CEUs (any topic)	12 UK-SBA approved APD or BACB Approved ACE CEU
Ethics APD (minimum)	2 Must be UK-SBA APD Approved
Racial Equality, Diversity, and Inclusion APD (minimum)	1 Must be UK-SBA APD Approved
Understanding and Respecting Neurodiversity APD (minimum)	1 Must be UK-SBA APD Approved

Certification Period

A certification period is 1 year, UKBA(cert)s will recertify at the same time as membership renewal. Payment for continued certification will include the cost of continued UK-SBA Registered Membership.

Continuing Professional Development Units

For renewals after January 2026, UKBA(cert) are required to complete 16 CPDs per year, two of which need to be in ethics, one in Racial Equality, Diversity, and Inclusion (EDI), and one specifically in understanding and respecting Neurodiversity.

³ APD is the UK-SBA Approved Professional Development. Details of how individuals and organisations can apply to become APD providers will be forthcoming.

All CPDs must occur within the certification period. Missing CPDs cannot be made up, and additional CPDs gained cannot be rolled over into the next certification period. If you do not upload your evidence for your 16 CPDs before your renewal date, your certification cannot be renewed and you will lose all privileges of certification until your complete your renewal.

Peer Supervision

All UKBA(cert) must complete of minimum of 12 hours of peer supervision each year. The UK-SBA recommends that peer supervision is arranged as one hour each month, however we acknowledge that needs vary with regard to peer supervision and do not prescribe the rate or minimum duration of supervision sessions. Peer supervision is defined as an hour whereby a practitioner discusses their caseload with another UKBA(cert).

Examples:

UKBA(cert) A and UKBA(cert) B meet for one hour. They spend 45 minutes discussing the caseload of UKBA(cert) A, and 15 minutes discussing the caseload of UKBA(cert) B. In this scenario, UKBA(cert) A can claim 45 minutes of peer supervision and UKBA(cert) B can claim 15 minutes of peer supervision.

UKBA(cert) A and UKBA(cert) B meet for two hours. They split the time equally discussing their caseloads and each claims one hour of peer supervision.

Safety to Practice

It is mandatory for all certified practising UKBA(cert) to hold and demonstrate at the point of renewal that they hold current liability insurance for the role they hold/seek. Those who work for an organisation may submit their workplace policy. For those working with/seeking to work with children and/or vulnerable adults it is also mandatory to hold a disclosure issued within three years of the start of their next term of certification and have completed safeguarding training relevant to the population they serve within three years of the start of their next term of certification. These are mandatory for any practising certificant and demonstrates safety to practice.
